The Bob Bové Neuroscience Institute Celebrates One-year Anniversary

One year goes by in the blink-of-an-eye, but it can also bear witness to some amazing memories and milestones. Happy first anniversary to all the donors and staff who worked to realize this state-of-the-art facility, known as BBNS!!

BBNSI, on the campus of HonorHealth Scottsdale Osborn Medical Center, offers comprehensive, integrated, expert care for neuroscience patients — all under one roof. Thanks to the generosity of countless donors, patients have convenient access to a collaborative team of multidisciplinary specialists, including neurologists, neurosurgeons, physical medicine and rehabilitation providers, therapists, social workers and dietitians.

In fact, as we celebrate Parkinson's Awareness month, we want to thank Daniel Savitt, DO, and his entire team for their work establishing the Parkinson's disease Wellness Clinic, which focuses on healthy dietary and exercise interventions for patients with Parkinson's disease.

"It is increasingly recognized that patients living with Parkinson's disease can benefit from a team approach to every aspect of their care," states Dr. Daniel Savitt.

The Institute also offers infusion therapy, medical imaging and physical therapy. Dedicated nurse navigators streamline and coordinate care, and serve as a friendly, knowledgeable resource for the many questions that arise as patients and families navigate the challenges of living with a neurological condition.

May is Healthcare Thought Leadership and Innovation Month

In support of this special month and HonorHealth's continuous dedication to innovating and elevating the delivery of healthcare, we want to take a moment to highlight the HonorHealth Research and Innovation Institute \(HRI²\).

With the support of visionary philanthropists, HRI² is discovering new drugs, developing novel treatments and technologies and expanding scientific knowledge — all to benefit patients and families here in our community and around the world who are battling everything from cancer and cardiovascular disease to neurological conditions and traumatic injury.

As one of the nation's foremost research organizations, the Institute is embracing innovation to improve medicine and change the future. HRI²'s renowned physician-scientists give patients access to groundbreaking therapies and the latest medical devices, along with a great deal of hope. And where there is hope, there is healing.

On behalf of the Foundation and the entire HonorHealth system and staff — thank you for your support.

Renowned cardiothoracic surgeon Dr. Zain Khalpey joins HonorHealth

In celebration of Healthcare Thought Leadership and Innovation Month, we are pleased to introduce you to a new team member, Zain Khalpey, MD, PhD, FETCS, FACS. While specializing in cardiothoracic surgery, or the treatment of organs inside the thorax, Dr. Khalpey also brings to the team expertise in using artificial intelligence, precision medicine techniques and regenerative medicine to provide exceptional care to heart patients.

What makes Dr. Khalpey a transformational care thought leader is his use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) to help predict cardiovascular events. In fact, AI helps positively impact outcomes for cardiovascular patients through accuracy, prediction, efficiency, consistency, and treatment.

In support of overall community health and growing need, the Foundation continues to prioritize fundraising for cardiovascular care. We look forward to welcoming Dr. Khalpey to our community at future Foundation events.

Meet Ruth Glassman, the Foundation's youngest philanthropist

Philanthropy is delivered in many forms and from all ages. To the surprise and delight of clients at HonorHealth Desert Mission Adult Day Care, 9-year-old Ruth gave the gift of music with a 30-minute piano concert last month.

Ruth is a third-grade student at Phoenix Country Day School and has been playing piano since the age of three. She played to a full room of smiling faces and selected a range of songs from classical to modern, including Für Elise by Ludwig Van Beethoven, Cruella De Ville by Roger Radcliffe (her favorite), What About Us by Pink, and Dancing Queen by ABBA.

When asked about her favorite music to play, she let us know it's the music she can "customize" at home by "playing it faster than my teacher likes." A true musician in the making!

Ruth and her family are dedicated to giving back to their community in numerous ways, in fact her father, Rodney Glassman, serves on the Foundation Board of Trustees.

Thank you, Ruth, for sharing your time and talent with us and giving our clients a very special afternoon.

Support healthcare workers this Patient Experience Week

Patient Experience Week kicks off May 6, and is an annual celebration of healthcare staff impacting the patient experience every day.

This year we are highlighting the Greatest Needs Fund in honor of Patient Experience Week. With a gift to the Greatest Needs Fund, you give HonorHealth the ability to meet needs that arise unexpectedly or that may otherwise go unfulfilled. From germ-zapping robots to battle viruses to advanced education and nutritious meals for staff — your gift ensures our staff doesn't worry about anything but our patients.

Thank you for helping us improve and save lives, remain nimble and deliver exceptional care.
